Concordia UNIVERSITY

Lacolle Centre for Educational Innovation

FEBRUARY AGENDA:

TRANSFORMATIVE THEATRE: A CREATIVITY WORKSHOP FOR WOMEN (Ann Scofield)
Each participant will develop a creative project drawing on images and themes from her imaginative and everyday experience. Material culled from personal sources (journals, dreams, family history, ancestry) and from daily life (relationships, work, politics) may find resonance through a variety of expressive modes: storytelling, writing, group improvisation, choral pieces, mask making, movement, dance, etc.

Tuesdays (Jan. 23 - Mar. 13/90)	6:30 - 9:30 p.m.	Theatre Zoopsie	$220
Thursdays (Jan. 25 - Mar. 15/90)	6:30 - 9:30 p.m.	Theatre Zoopsie	$220

METHODS FOR MEMORY IMPROVEMENT (Alexander Ackerman)
This practical, hands-on workshop is divided into four segments: 1) a pre-test; 2) some theories, methods, systems and foods that influence memory; 3) a hands-on practice and system selections; and (4) a post-test.

Saturday, February 3, 1990	9:30 - 1:00 p.m.	Loyola Campus	$40

MOTIVATION: "DISCOVER YOUR GOALS AND ACHIEVE SUCCESS" (Alan Knight)
This workshop is designed to help you achieve your personal, relationship and career goals. Participants will learn methods which will help them to increase motivation, clarify direction and take appropriate action.

Wednesday, February 7, 1990	7:00 - 10:00 p.m.	H-762	$35

TOURISTS IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES: FRIENDS OR FOE? (Social Justice Committee)
Can tourism be an instrument which brings people together or is it destined to be but a superficial meeting of cultures? The purpose of this workshop is to help participants understand a little better the reality of life in many of the less-developed, "earthly paradises" and how the Canadian tourist might use his/her trip to better advantage.

Wednesday, February 14, 1990	7:00 - 9:30 p.m.	H-762	FREE

RELATIONSHIPS: SHARING THE POWER (Carolyn Springer)
A major issue in any relationship today involves the balance of power. The emphasis of this workshop is on learning to share the power and feel good about it. Participants will discover effects of various behavioural reactions through exercises, role-playing and visualization.

Saturday, February 17, 1990	9:30 - 4:00 p.m.	WG-204	$50